by Matthew Green

Wedding photography at its best is about capturing a story. Our wedding reportage service, under the direction of Matthew Green, ensures your special story is captured by the best.

"You are not like the rest and neither are we...."

In a nutshell...

I use an informal reportage style of photography that captures the unrehearsed moments of your day. Working unobtrusively and efficiently I am committed to providing unique, high quality images that capture the emotions of your wedding day as it unfolds. The result is a creative storybook of photographs for you to cherish for years to come.

Reportage

Reportage photography takes its roots from photojournalism, and as such requires quick reactions, spontaneity and flexibility from a photographer in order to capture the emotions of the day. If you, or perhaps more importantly, the people paying for the wedding, require traditional & time consuming group photos and posed set pieces then feel free to contact us for a recommended professional photographer (UK only) from our exclusive network, but note this is not what I provide.

Bespoke Service

I will provide a contemporary, natural and stress-free approach to capturing the story of your wedding. We will develop a shared vision of the style you want to achieve and work within the parameters that you set. On the day I will be there for as long or short as you require, tactfully shadowing you with your family and friends ensuring that you will end up with a collection of beautiful and natural images that speak volumes about you both and the people closest to you.

Finished Product

All images are recorded digitally using Nikon and Canon professional cameras. Each image is hand edited using a variety of techniques to create unique artwork and a reportage portfolio of your special day. Once prepared, all of your images will be made available to you on an electronic storage device ready to print on any material to A1 poster size, upload or email.
