

The Malta Tourism Authority has teamed up with Nature Trust (Malta) and Identity Malta in an initiative that involves planting a commemorative tree at the Xrobb l-Ghagin Nature Park for foreigners who are tying the knot in the Maltese Islands.

Let your union grow strong as your commemorative tree greens the Maltese Islands that witnessed your everlasting promise of love. Over the years, your living monument will grow and strengthen as it builds strong roots and provide shelter to local wildlife.

The couple's name, the date of marriage or civil union and the country of origin will be listed on the tree heart shaped plaque. Should couples wish to plant the tree themselves, they are requested to reserve a date for the planting of the tree by calling Xrobb l-Ghagin Park, at least 2 working days before the said planting.

Participants can opt to choose one (1) indigenous tree from the list, depending on seasonality and are requested to inform Xrobb l-Ghagin volunteers for the availability of the requested tree.

Allepo Pine, Holm Oak, Sandarac Gum Tree, Mediterranean Dwarf Palm, African Tamarisk, Myrtle, Carob.

Planting will be held from Mondays to Fridays between 9.00 am to noon. The Park is open free of charge everyday between 8 am till 5 pm. All trees are grown from local seeds by Nature Trust (Malta) in an afforestation project and will be cared for by Nature Trust volunteers.

A certificate with the photo of the tree or the couple planting the tree will be sent to each couple by post or by email as a memento of their marriage and their contribution towards greening this Nature Park in the South East of Malta.
